

Futuristic Slice Bottle

Saturday, 27 January 2007

In 2015 at the Cafe 80's and at Marty's house you can see several types of soda bottles. There were three brands shown. Pepsi Perfect, Diet Pepsi, and Slice. The packaging for these drinks was futuristic to match the year and contained highly detailed labeling. The Pepsi Perfect is prominently seen while the Diet Pepsi and Slice bottles are mainly seen in the background.

Futuristic Mandarin Orange SLICE bottle from the Cafe 80's. The bottle is made of resin and has a functioning flip top with built in straw. This bottle was obtained in-directly from the company that created them for the production. This prop is no longer in my collection.
